

Elini Railway Station

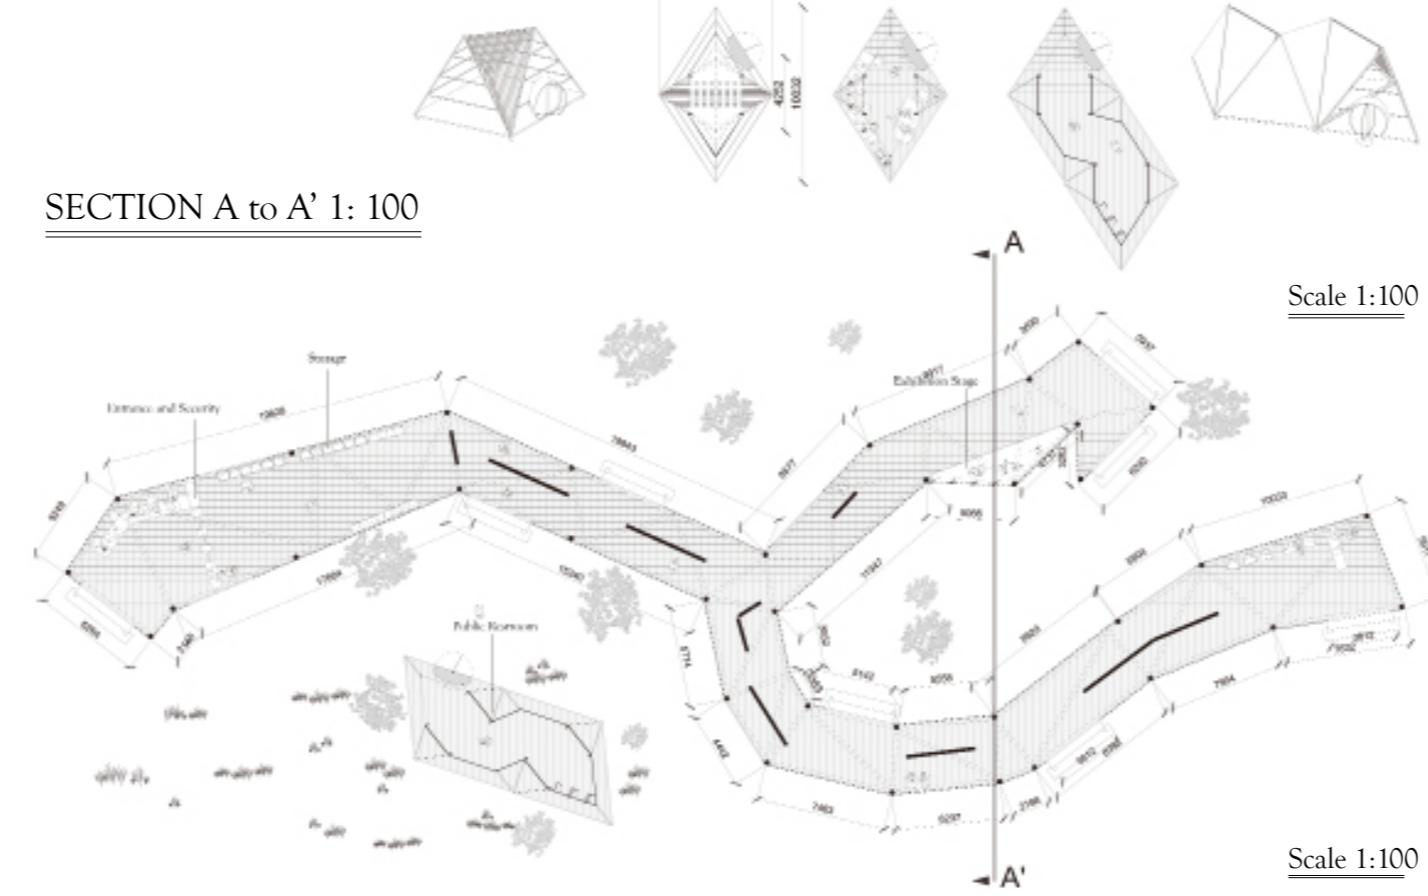

The design concept of this project was to use the local train station as a linkage tool to connect all picked sites in Elini. By adding the theme of local topographical cultural exploration, all train stations comprised of all the main design functions which are hotel, office, art school and Museum to conduct seasonal activities for both local citizens and visitors. The project uses different units to create a unique architectural function and mobility. The business incubator integrates part of the hotel unit, which fully embodies the portability and mobility of the project building, allowing visitors to experience the Elini culture without lack of use of the building. Office, located in the rear, is divided into different functional areas using different colors. The school and museum are both in the same forest, making full use of Elini's beautiful natural environment, allowing students to burst out outstanding artistic inspiration under the influence of museum culture and the collision of natural environment.
